

Case Study Policy

In order to complete the final component in becoming a fully qualified AcuEnergetics® Practitioner, you must submit your Case Studies. Each AcuEnergetics® Practitioner is required to submit 15 case studies for assessment.

Timing

The case studies may be submitted after 12 months of becoming a provisional AcuEnergetics® Practitioner, which gives the practitioner ample time to gather and submit the best 15 cases they have. However the practitioner has up to 24 months to submit the cases, after becoming a provisional practitioner.

Assessment

The case studies will be reviewed by an AcuEnergetics® Examiner and the result of your case studies will be given to you within one month of submitting your cases.

The case studies will be graded as either satisfactory or unsatisfactory. If your case studies are satisfactory, you will have completed your final assessment and will become a fully qualified AcuEnergetics® Practitioner. If your case studies are unsatisfactory, you will be given specific feedback as to the reason why and will be asked to resubmit those case studies that have not met the requirements.

Submission Format

You are required to submit them in a typed, soft-copy format. This is so they can be uploaded to a practitioner library resource to use online. The case studies should be written in the format of the case study template provided.

Case Study Selection

Each case study should follow a client from their initial session, through the treatment of their complaint/s and to a final outcome, usually where the complaint is resolved.

Your case studies should aim to show a variety of treatment lengths and complaints.
